Set in Marble Feb 14 2021 One town, squashed between some marble mountains and the Mediterranean Sea. Four main characters with their own unique relationship to it, often embellished or distorted by nostalgia's trickery. Each of them with a different short story to tell... ... or are they more connected than they believe? Giada Nizzoli is the author of the poetry collection 'Will-o'-the-Wisps'. With these short stories, she will take you to one of her Italian hometowns, adding a sprinkle of magic to your journey. Or, perhaps, helping you see the magic that's already hiding there. [This short story collection also includes the bonus essay 'Foreign Home Countries: The Strong Relationship Between Magical Realism and Exilic Nostalgia']

Heimwee naar een andere wereld Nov 06 2022 Er is iets onheilspellends aan de hand in de verhalen van Ottessa Moshfegh - iets dat haast een beetje gevaarlijk aanvoelt - terwijl ze tegelijkertijd ook betoverend zijn en je soms hardop aan het lachen maken. Haar personages zijn altijd op een of andere manier onhandig; ze verlangen naar contact met anderen en proberen hun leven te beteren, elk op hun eigen manier, maar worden vaak gehinderd door verkeerde prikkels en existentiële onzekerheden. Heimwee naar een andere wereld is een masterclass in de variaties in zelfbedrog via een breed scala aan personages die leven in onze huidige tijd. Maar het echt unieke aan haar vertelstem, de echte Moshfegh-ervaring, is de manier waarop ze het groteske en wanstaltige verlecht met tederheid en compassie. Het vlees is zwak, het hout is krom, mensen zijn wreed tegen elkaar, en stompzinnig, en kwetsend. Maar soms openbaart schoonheid zich op vreemde plekken. En de duistere toon in deze verhalen is erg verfrissend. De lezer is in de handen van een auteur met een groot intellect, een groot hart die zich bedient van woedende uithalen en vlijmscherpe kleine speldenprikken. En die naald raakt de gevoelige plek voordat we de prik zelfs maar voelen.

Bobbo, What Are You Doing? Nov 01 2019 Collection of Bobbo Before Bed Stories "It's Bobbo the Bear. The bear I really love." This collection of Bobbo stories includes "Bobbo's Curls," "Bobbo and the Forgetful Bear," and "Bobbo and the Stolen Little Boy." In "Bobbo's Curls," Bobbo the Bear is tired of being teased about his curly fur. After consulting his friends in the forest, he ends up in a sticky situation. Mom is there to save the day with a special solution and an important lesson about accepting yourself. In "Bobbo and the Forgetful Bear," Bobbo and his friend find a confused bear in the forest. When they bravely approach the bear and bring his story back to their families, Bobbo and his friend discover much more than they ever expected. In "Bobbo and the Stolen Little Boy" Bobbo and his friends must figure out a plan to share a special toy. This story encourages critical thinking and compromise. Each Bobbo story features Bobbo the Bear, his friends and his family as he explores the forest and learns more about growing up. Bobbo stories make excellent before bed read-aloud books, with each story lasting about 5 minutes. Originally published in Italian, Bobbo books tell stories that all children can relate to and enjoy. Xist Publishing is proud to present the Bobbo Books to a new generation of children. By bringing beloved stories from diverse cultures to new audiences, Xist Publishing celebrates childhood in all its beautiful forms. We hope your children will enjoy these stories and discover a lifetime love of reading and love for all the people and creatures of the world.

Prompt Creations (in a Pandemic) Feb 03 2020 I wrote thirty-one stories during eighty-four days in the pandemic, from writing prompts that I got from an outside source. These stories helped me to discover myself as a writer. While many of the stories that are in this short-story collection are stand-alone items, conceptually speaking, many of them exist within a world that I'm writing a (future) series of novels in. As such, this short story collection will be the first official glimpse into Bangor Springs, Michigan. Some of the stories are a bit surreal, while others are very down to earth and relatable as such.

Spook Stories Collection Sep 23 2021 Edward Frederic Benson (1867-1940) was an English novelist, biographer, memoirist, archaeologist and short story writer, known professionally as E.F. Benson. The novels feature humorous incidents in the lives of (mainly) upper-middle-class British people in the 1920s and 1930s, vying for social prestige and one-upmanship in an atmosphere of extreme cultural snobbery. Benson was also known as a writer of atmospheric, oblique, and at times humorous or satirical ghost stories. This edition includes: Spook Stories: Reconciliation The Face Spinach Bagnell Terrace A Tale of an Empty House Naboth's Vineyard Expiation Home Sweet Home "And no Birds Sings" The Corner House Corstophine The Temple More Spook Stories: The Step The Bed by the Window James Lamp The Dance The Hanging of Alfred Wadham Pirates The Wishing-Well The Bath-Chair Monkeys Christopher Comes Back The Sanctuary Thursday Evenings The Psychological Mallards

The Spread Oct 05 2022 You don't know when it will change your life, or how, but the zombie plague is spreading quickly and in ways that no one could have imagined. In Part I, an independently-hired researcher watches a mysterious plague decimate an island and takes notes with a gun-toting guard at his side. but the brisk waters of the Puget Sound can't keep it from spreading to the mainland. In Part II, follow the infection from chapter to chapter and person to person. A frightened neighborhood cat, a harmless fishing trip, a room full of infected preschoolers. perhaps someone will deliver it right to your front door. How kind. Featuring short stories that showcase the many ways in which a disease can overwhelm a city, The Spread will get you thinking of how mundane acts can become deadly. No matter your precautions, the spread will reach you. Of that you can be sure.

Illustrated Stories from Around the World Oct 13 2020 From the moment the starting gun is fired on Kona's sandy beach at the Ironman World Championship, triathletes have 17 hours to cross the finish line. It's a feat marking the ultimate achievement in the sport. "17 Hours to Glory" is one of only a few books to commemorate this dramatic quest. Seventeen compelling stories allow readers to experience the competition first-hand, revealing tremendous athleticism, unbelievable capacity for suffering, and true strength of character. The personal stories of triathlon's most epic characters come to life in this book, beginning with the famous story of Julie Moss's determination to reach the finish line, paving the way for future champions like Mark Allen and Paula Newby-Fraser, and a new generation of superstars in Greg Welch and Chrissie Wellington. "17 Hours to Glory" tells the stories of a sedentary secretary with all of the wrong habits taking up triathlon to lose weight, a nun who races triathlons to bring attention to her causes, and two men with a rivalry so intense that their disabilities fade into the shadows. Injury, tough breaks, and down-to-the-wire finishes highlight years of dedication to reaching a goal. Some will become champions, some will overcome all odds just to finish, only to come back and do it again. Triathlon's most dynamic heroes are candidly portrayed in "17 Hours to Glory," a book that puts no limits on the possibilities of the human spirit.

Science Fiction Short Stories Collection. Illustrated Jun 20 2021 Philip K. Dick published 44 novels and 121 short stories during his lifetime and solidified his position as arguably the most literary of science fiction writers. Dick became the first science fiction writer to be included in The Library of America series. John Warden and the Renaissance of American Air Power Mar 18 2021 Included on the Chief of Staff of the United States Air Force's reading list for 2008 and the Royal Air Force's Centre for Air Power Studies 2008 Reading List Dr. John Andreas Olsen has written an insightful, compelling biography of retired U.S. Air Force colonel John A. Warden III, the brilliant but controversial air warfare theorist and architect of Operation Desert Storm's air campaign. Warden's radical ideas about air power's purposes and applications, promulgated at the expense of his own career, sparked the ongoing revolution in military affairs. Legendary in defense circles, Warden is also the author of The Air Campaign: Planning for Combat (republished by Brassey's, Inc. in 1989). Presenting both the positives and negatives of Warden's personality and impact in this objective portrait, Olsen offers a trenchant analysis of his revolutionary ideas and great accomplishments.

Nine Inches Aug 23 2021 Nine Inches, Tom Perrotta's first true collection, features ten stories—some sharp and funny, some mordant and surprising, and a few intense and disturbing. Whether he's dropping into the lives of two teachers—and their love lost and found—in “Nine Inches”, documenting the unraveling of a dad at a Little League game in “The Smile on Happy Chang's Face”, or gently marking the points of connection between an old woman and a benched high school football player in “Senior Season”, Perrotta writes with a sure sense of his characters and their secret longings. Nine Inches contains an elegant collection of short fiction: stories that are as assured in their depictions of characters young and old, established and unsure, as any written today.

Shadowlands Jun 08 2020 Shadowlands collection is the collected horror stories--along with a couple of dark poems--from Paul Levas. With stories such as The Shed, The Shed is a place full of memories. Memories of a tragic accident. For Steve, cleaning it will mean a chance to rid the horrors of the day he lost his son. But there is something else in the shed. Something dark & evil that will make Steve question both his sanity and his grasp on reality. and The Hungry Woods, Johnny's walk home from school was no big deal. That is, until the Big Kids, the Carbone brothers, moved into town and started picking on him all the time. One day, Johnny took a short cut through the woods to escape his daily beating, only to find that something far more terrifying than the Big Kids was waiting there for him. and Shadows, There's something in the desert. Something ancient and knowing and powerful. You can't see it. You can't feel it. Not unless it wants you to. An evil so great even time has forgotten it exists. It lives in the shadows, waiting with infinite patience for its next victim. Shadows brings a unique twist on the power of evil, and the helplessness of humanity in the face of that which we don't understand...it will bring horror which is close to us all, straight to the heart. This collection brings the fears of good vs evil, bullying, and the land of Earth at war with humans.

Collected Short Stories and Novellas Jun 28 2019 "The collection includes the novella "We Don't Live Here Anymore," which served as the basis for the 2004 film of the same title (nominated for the Grand Jury Prize at the Sundance Film Festival); the novella also introduces Dubus's writer-protagonist Hank Allison, a character who continues to appear throughout his work. While the collection's opening stories focus on the fragile nature of youth, later stories shift to darker struggles of adulthood, such as in "Andromache"-Dubus's first story to appear in The New Yorker (1968)-which traces the aftermath of a tragic death during wartime."--Provided by publisher.

Alien Queen Jan 04 2020 Alien Queen is an eclectic collection of 41 novelettes, short stories, and short-shorts of Speculative fiction, including metaphysical and supernatural tales and mysteries of Sci-fi, Horror, and the Paranormal by the author of Corpus Omphalos, Where Image Abides, and Serial Homicide L.L.C.

Let Me Think Jul 30 2019 A new collection of short fiction by the author of the cult classic Pieces for the Left Hand Let Me Think is a meticulous selection of short stories by one of the preeminent chroniclers of the American absurd. Through J. Robert Lennon's mordant yet sympathetic eye, the quotidian realities of marriage, family, and work are rendered powerfully strange in this rich and innovative collection. These stories, most no more than a few pages, are at once experimental and compulsively readable, the work of an expert craftsman who can sketch whole lives in a mere handful of lines, or reveal, over pages, the boundless complexity of a passing thought. Here you'll find a heist gone wrong, a case of mistaken identity, a hostile encounter with a neighborhood eccentric, a glass eye, a talking owl, and a six-fingered hand. Whatever the subject, Lennon disarms the reader with humor before pivoting to pathos, pain, and disappointment—most notably in an extraordinary sequence of darting, painfully funny fictions about a disintegrating marriage that captures the myriad ways intimacy can fail us, and the ways that we can fail it. Like Lennon's earlier story collection Pieces for the Left Hand, Let Me Think holds a mirror up to our long-held grudges and secret desires, our petty resentments and moments of redeeming grace, and confirms him as a virtuoso of the form.

Erotic Short Stories Jul 10 2020 A 150 stories large collection of erotic stories by Florence Howard. Hot, sexy and totally taboo stories, that are bound to satisfy!

The United Stories of America Aug 30 2019 This book discusses the American short story composite, or short story cycle, a neglected form of writing consisting of autonomous stories interlocking into a whole. The critical work done on this genre has so far focused on the closural strategies of the composites, on how unity is accomplished in these texts. This study takes into consideration, to a greater degree than earlier criticism, the short story composite as an open work, emphasizing the tension between the independent stories and the unified work, between the discontinuity and fragmentation, on the one hand, and the totalizing strategies, on the other. The discussion of the genre is illustrated with references to numerous American short story composites.

Close Range May 20 2021 From the Pulitzer Prize-winning and bestselling author of The Shipping News and Accordion Crimes comes one of the most celebrated short-story collections of our time. Annie Proulx's masterful language and fierce love of Wyoming are evident in these breathtaking tales of loneliness, quick violence, and the wrong kinds of love. Each of the stunning portraits in Close Range reveals characters fiercely wrought with precision and grace. These are stories of desperation and unlikely elation, set in a landscape both stark and magnificent -- by an author writing at the peak of her craft.

The World to Come Oct 01 2019 Bursting with wicked humor and driven by an incomparable understanding of what it means to be human, The World to Come is the inimitable work of "the most ambitious story writer in America" (The Daily Beast). Now a major motion picture Shepard traverses both borders and centuries, seamlessly inhabiting a multitude of disparate men and women, and giving voice to visionaries, pioneers, and secret misfits—from nineteenth-century explorers departing on one of the Arctic's most nightmarish expeditions to twentieth-century American military wives maintaining hope at home. Shepard's characters confront everything from the emotional pitfalls of everyday life to colossal catastrophes, battling natural forces, the hazards of new technology, and their own implacable shortcomings. "[Shepard] has a knack for compressing a novel's worth of life into 30 or 40 pages." —The Boston Globe

The Canadian Short Story Aug 11 2020 Beginning in the 1890s, reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s, and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s, the short story has become Canada's flagship genre. It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today, among them Margaret Atwood, Mavis Gallant, Alice Munro, Clark Blaise, and many others. Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it, surprisingly little literary criticism has been devoted to the Canadian short story. This book redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of thirty well-known and often-anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century. A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada, the US, and Great Britain completes it. Geared both to specialists in and students of Canadian literature, the volume is of particular benefit to the latter because it provides not only a collection of interpretations, but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story. Contributors: Reingard M. Nischik, Martina Seifert, Heinz Antor, Julia Breitbach, Konrad Gross, Paul Goetsch, Dieter Meindl, Nina Kück, Stefan Ferguson, Rudolf Bader, Fabienne C. Can I Tell You A Story Instead? Volume One Mar 06 2020 Can I Tell You a Story Instead? Volume One is a short story collection by T. A. Suyt. This collection is broken into three story formats: traditional, story poems, and dialogue driven. The stories give readers a unique look at how people make decisions by touching on various topics, plots, and genres. Read as the author uses "gray writing" to depict characters and their actions as neither black nor white. Good nor evil. But simply people and choices. Suyt's unique sense of humor and ability to connect with the audience makes this short story collection a must have!
